

NEW CAPITAL

Of Dark Tobacco Patch Will Be
Guthrie or Hopkinsville.

CLARKSVILLE WILL NOT BE IN IT.

A special from Guthrie says: Developments in the tobacco situation within the past few days have made it extremely probable that the market for dark tobacco, so long held by Clarksville, Tenn., will be permanently removed to either Guthrie or Hopkinsville. The recent refusal of the buyers for the Italian government to go to Clarksville to inspect the samples of the tobacco held by the Farmers' Protective Association and their subsequent removal to Hopkinsville, where a deal is now pending for practically the entire Tennessee and Kentucky crops, means, in the opinions of men well informed on the subject, that the Tennessee town may cease to figure as a great tobacco center. A movement, which has long been on foot, to erect sample warehouses at this place has been given fresh impetus by the position taken by the Italian buyers, and it is practically certain that steps will be taken this week to make Guthrie the Market for the entire crop of the black patch.

Whatever the result may be, as far as Guthrie and Hopkinsville are concerned, it is almost certain that the position which has belonged to Clarksville as the largest dark tobacco market in the world, and second only to Louisville in importance as a tobacco center, will hereafter be held by a Kentucky town.

The refusal of the Italian buyers to go to Clarksville was due, it is thought here, to a desire to avoid any complications might result from a squabble in which the Board of Trade of Clarksville has been the chief factor.

For several days the agent for the Italian Government, Joseph Ferigo, better known as the Regio buyer, has been in this section of the State and in Tennessee, looking over the tobacco situation. Ferigo has a contract with the Italian Government, the largest purchaser of dark tobacco, for, it is generally understood, from 8,000 to 10,000 hogheads. He has been looking over the crop, practically all of which is held by the farmers' association, and is now in Hopkinsville.

On Thursday he asked for samples of the Association tobacco, which have been in Clarksville, at the salesrooms of the association. He refused to go to Clarksville to examine them, and asked that they be sent to him at Hopkinsville. This was done, and the deal is now well under way. It is probable that the greater part of the association crop will be sold at association prices.

Association's Anniversary.
Next Saturday the first anniversary of the association will be celebrated at the fair grounds here. A barbecue, the like of which has probably never been seen in Western Kentucky before will be given, and it is estimated that 10,000 persons will attend. Farmers from one end of the black patch to the other are preparing to come bring their families, and the crowd will undoubtedly be the greatest ever seen in Guthrie, and in all probability in Western Kentucky. Two hundred carcasses will be barbecued, and the most complete preparations are being made to entertain the crowd.

Among those who will speak will be Congressmen A. O. Stanley and Ollie James, of Kentucky, and Congressmen John Wesley Gaines and Joe Washington, of Tennessee. These men have been among the strongest supporters of the association. At the barbecue decisive action will be taken one way or the other, in regard to changing the tobacco market from Clarksville to a Kentucky town permanently.

Ben Carroll Was Not Sand-bagged Near This Place—American in Error.
Famous Clarksville.

The following is from the Nashville American:

Fayetteville, Tenn., Sept. 18.—Ben Carroll, son of Rev. S. H. Carroll, of Oak Grove, this county, who was sand-bagged near Earlinton, Ky., a few days ago, is reported dead. His brother-in-law, Robert Oliff, of Howell, left for the scene of the tragedy immediately upon the receipt of the news, but the remains of the unfortunate young man had been interred before he reached Earlinton. Robbery is supposed to have been the object of the attack.

The above is an error as The Bee has made a thorough investigation assisted by City Marshal Barnett and it was ascertained that the incident above referred to occurred at Arlington, Carlisle county, Ky., and not at this place.

Killing Birds Out of Season.

Some of our Earlinton boys have been killing quail in the arboretum lately. It is not yet time for killing this class of game and some of the offenders are known to the game warden. They are hereby warned that a continuation of this unlawful practice will be prosecuted.

City School Opens Monday With Large Attendance.

The Earlinton City School opened Monday in charge of Mr. Andrew Dustin and the same able assistants who taught last year. There were 275 pupils enrolled the first day and several have since entered. Earlinton is justly proud of her school building and her teachers and if the children of Earlinton do not receive an education here it is the fault of the children and their parents.

If you tell a woman that a 50-cent article is worth $1.50 she will cheerfully give you 98 cents for it.

A Pleasant Surprise.

Friday, September 16th, being Mrs. E. R. McEuen's seventy-first birthday, the Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church, of which she is a faithful member arranged to surprise her. At seven o'clock in the evening the members assembled at Mrs. M. B. Long's and from there proceeded in a body to Mrs. McEuen's residence on Main street. Having beforehand communicated the secret to Mrs. Victory and family nothing was known of their coming by Mrs. McEuen and when the procession filed to her rooms she was somewhat bewildered until they began to show congratulations upon her. When it became evident that she was the victim of a pleasant conspiracy on the part of her friends the good woman was soon equal to the occasion and her gratitude was greatly manifested. A short while was spent in merry conversation after which the party was invited to the dining room, where with the assistance of Mrs. Jno. M. Victory and daughter, who had entered into the plans thoroughly, delightful refreshments were served. The evening passed all too quickly, and the happy party separated taking with them the many expressions of appreciation of their victim, and leaving good wishes for many years of joy.

Time has dealt tenderly with this good woman, and well may it be said that she is "growing old gracefully." With a hopeful spirit, a cheering word for every one she numbers her friends by the score, and the years pass lightly by, filled with good deeds, and bring to her joys that sweeten life.

Died in Tennessee.

The remains of Wm. T. Sparrow, who died at Macfreesboro, Tenn., Friday of consumption, were met at Nortonville Saturday afternoon by a number of friends and conveyed to Hale's boarding house in this city from whence they were taken to Grapevine cemetery for interment Sunday afternoon. The deceased was a son of Mr. R. W. Sparrow, of Bethany, Ohio, and a brother of Miss Emma Sparrow, of this city, and of Mr. Jas. Sparrow, formerly of this place, now a conductor on the A. K. & N. at Blue Ridge, Ga. The father and brother attended the funeral. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved ones in their hour of sorrow.

Burden-Boiling.

Miss Effie Burden, formerly of this city, but who has been living in Evansville, Ind., for some time past, and Mr. Louis Boiling, of that place, were united in marriage on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at the West Side Baptist parsonage in that city by Rev. E. G. S. Burdette. The bride is a daughter of Rev. Jno. Burden, of this place, and is a popular young lady. The groom is a son of Mr. Jacob Boiling, proprietor of the Richmond Hotel at Evansville and is employed as a pilot on the lower Mississippi river. Their many friends extend congratulations.

City Marshal Barnett Buys Fine Horse.

Jno. T. Barnett purchased from Wylie Jones, of Princeton, sheriff of Caldwell county, a beautiful four year old thoroughbred mare. This is one of the best looking horses seen in Earlinton for a long time. Mr. Barnett is justly proud of his new purchase as she is sound in every respect and is perfectly gentle. The price paid for this animal was something fancy.

He says it's pretty dry and late corn needs rain. Farmer got in a hurry and rode on, so I didn't get to ask him further as to the crop outlook."

ACCOUNTS ALLOWED

Against Live Stock Breeders' Association.

Judgment for the plaintiffs has been given by Magistrate Charles J. Egenbush, of Louisville, in the case of forty-three of the newspapers of Kentucky and Southern Indiana against the Kentucky Live Stock Breeders' Association. He took the cases under consideration after hearing the evidence Monday afternoon, and compared the bills presented by the plaintiffs with the amounts allowed by the board of directors of the Fair Association in 1903, and, except in a few cases, allowed the entire amounts claimed. The bills vary from $4 to $50, and total in round numbers, $750.

M. W. Neal, a vice president of the association, upon whom the papers in the case were served, contended that he was only passively connected with the organization, and that the real defendants were out of the city at the State Fair, now being held at Lexington.

When the buggy was stopped in front of her residence on Main street the driver alighted and was preparing to assist her from the buggy, when a man and woman drove rapidly down the street striking the buggy and turning it partially over. Mrs. McGary was in the act of alighting and was thrown violently to the ground striking on her head and shoulder. She was considerably bruised and otherwise injured. The couple who ran into her buggy made no halt and it was impossible to ascertain their names.

The twentieth of last April was the day on which the ground was broken for the new coal shaft on the land purchased of Mrs. W. S. Elam, near this city, says the Henderson Gleaner. The shaft is just beyond the L. & N. R. R., a few hundred yards beyond the Marshall Furniture Company. The shaft has reached a depth of three hundred feet in the one hundred and thirty-five yards that have come and gone since April 20th. The reading public will admit this result is a great achievement when it is remembered the time required for sinking the shaft of the Henderson Mining and Manufacturing Co., to a depth of 185 feet was just fourteen months. And that shaft is only one half the dimensions of the Nicholson shaft, which it will be remembered is ten by twenty. A simple calculation demonstrates the rate of progress to be about 2-1/4 feet per day, and since the required depth of the present shaft is about 700 feet one hundred and eighty days must come and go before the necessary depth shall have been attained. It will be a deep mine when completed,—700 feet. But coal is mined at Pottsville, Pa., at a depth of 1,600 feet.

Mr. Tom Ezell, of the No. 9 shop force, visited in Madisonville and at Nebo Monday.

J. W. Rogers, of this place, was in Madisonville Saturday on business.

RUBY LUMBER COMPANY

NEBO NOTES.

A party consisting of Claude Graham, Bob Payne, Bob Cunningham and others have gone to the Black Lake fishing and hunting.

There was a show here several nights last week. As to the merits or demerits we know nothing.

There was a game of base ball played here this week, but being too busy to attend we failed to get the particulars.

The Cumberland Presbyterian Sunday school was robbed of a small amount of money recently. Miss Emma Hill was treasurer and kept the money which was mainly pennies, nickels and dimes in a tin bank that was put for safe keeping in a bureau drawer. The amount was between two and four dollars. Ten dollars will be paid for the detection of the thief.

Nothing of importance has transpired since our last letter. Not even a barn burned.

The meeting at the Cumberland Presbyterian church is still in progress. The meetings are well attended. Rev. J. P. Price, of Marion, is doing some fine preaching.

Mr. R. P. Hodge, of Madisonville, came down and attended church at Nebo one night last week. Mr.

Hodge formerly lived this place and has a great many friends in this vicinity.

Chris Hoffman is having his residence remodeled and when completed will have one of the nicest buildings in Nebo. Mr. R. P. Hill assisted by W. B. Payne, Frank Cavanaugh and R. S. Hill is doing the work.

Miss Martha Eudaley came home last week after a visit to her sister at Hiley.

An alarm of fire was sounded Monday afternoon. It proved to be Walker's livery stable on fire. Our people seized their buckets and soon had the blaze extinguished before any great damage was done.

The political pots are slowly simmering and we may look for some hot work between now and the election as the Republicans are wide awake and will make the hardest fight of their lives. They are not making any great amount of noise but they are completing their organization and a great effort will be made to get out the full Republican vote.

Miss Jimmie Tot Fike, who is teaching at Haysen, came home Saturday on a visit.

Mrs. Gracie Lutz, of Sta. Hope, attended church here Sunday.

Miss Janie King, who is teaching school at Hiley, came home on a short visit Friday evening to parents. She returned Sunday accompanied by a certain young man as to whether he will enter school we are not informed.

Dave Eudaley, of Earlington, came home Sunday on a visit. He was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Hal Eudaley, of Madisonville.

T. P. Peyton returned Friday from the Indian Territory. Pipe says it will not do to compare with old Kentucky.

A horse belonging to Mr. Eli Cox decided that it was time to take a rest one day recently and stopped on the streets but after much persuasion was induced to move on which he did in a hurry.

A. E. Hill, of Madison, attended church here Sunday.

Some Good in Every Man.
The retiring warden of the Kansas State prison says there is some good in every man. That warden possesses the faith that moves mountains. He has had thorough experience, of course, with the very worst types of humanity; yet after careful study of them he finds good in them. This man views the world by the light that shines from his own clear breast. Would that there were more like him.

THE CHURCH DEBT.

A Pen Picture Drawn By an Illinois Editor

September is the month when the church debt turns from the ice cream and fixes its fangs on the flabby cypher of commerce. The church debt is one of the greatest blessings of the age. It takes the minds of the sisters off the servant girl question for the time being, dispels spiritual ennui and promotes a hallowed and sanctified sociability. It gives the busy church workers an opportunity to trade their groceries to each other at less than cost and then report to the official board that they have made $5.13. Many towns have no Carnegie library but all have a church debt. The deprived father and husband who refuses to attend church is involuntarily made to serve the Lord because of the church debt, for do not the pious and devout wives and daughters sell seventy-five cents worth of flour, eggs and sugar, abstracted from the family larder he has filled, for forty cents in money to be applied on the church debt?

Unstable John Mitchell.

On July 31 we printed a despatch from which we quote the following extract:

"Scranton, Pa., July 29.—John Mitchell has given out an interview in answer to an editorial in Thursday's Sun which stated among other things that an extensive strike of miners 'next spring is possible, if not probable.' Mr. Mitchell says: 'The statement that the miners have begun a movement for a general strike next April in the event our demands are refused is preposterous, utterly false and absolutely untrue. The whole article is in error. We are not making any preparations for a strike next April, because we believe that satisfactory agreements will be entered upon without much difficulty.'"

At Tamaqua, on August 27, Mr. Mitchell said that he knew what he and the union miners were going to do next spring. He did not say what it was. He did not say that a strike order would be issued by him and obeyed by his followers. But there is nothing in his speech at Tamaqua or in his franchise elsewhere which in any way intimated Mr. Mitchell's purpose to accept quietly and without a struggle the failure of his effort to secure an eight hour day and recognition of the union. The stress which he lays on these two points as "essential to permanent peace and industrial tranquility in the anthracite region" leaves no inference possible except that of his intention to strike for them if they are not accorded by the operators.

During his campaign in the mining district this summer Mr. Mitchell has again and again asserted his desire for peace. But this assertion has almost invariably been coupled with a more or less discreetly veiled intimation that peace could be established only on his own terms, and that if those terms were not accepted by the operators the responsibility for a struggle would rest with them and not with him. That is the argument of the highwayman who says to his victim: "I want no fight with you, but if you do not give me your money I will take it from you, and the responsibility for the fight and its results will be yours and not mine."

Whether Mr. Roosevelt's address to the miners had any definite effect on the situation we are unable to say. But it seems to us that the Mitchell policy is susceptible of summary thus: "Speak softly to the public and carry a big stick to use on the operators if they do not give what we want." So long as Mr. Mitchell could parade his followers before the public as a suffering and outraged proletariat he could count on a large measure of public sympathy and support. Should he lead his men into a strike next April he will find himself handicapped by his own statement at Wilkesbarre and by the facts which support it, that since the strike of 1902 the miners "have enjoyed an era of prosperity, unprecedented in the history of the hard coal regions."

Before pouring out its sympathies for those who are "enjoying an era of unprecedented prosperity" the coal consuming public will probably run an eye over its coal bills and compare existing prices with those of earlier days and then spend a few hours wondering just where it comes into the game.—N. Y. Sun.

Much That Every Woman Desires to Know About Sanative, Antiseptic Cleansing and the Care of the Skin, Scalp, Hair, and Hands.

WHAT CUTICURA
DOES FOR WOMEN

Too much stress cannot be placed on the great value of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills in the antiseptic cleansing of the mucous surfaces, and of the blood and circulating fluids, thus affording pure, sweet, and economical local and constitutional treatment for weakening ulcerations, inflammations, itching, irritations, eruptions, discharges, pains, and irregularities peculiar to females. Hence the Cuticura remedies have a wonderful influence in restoring health, strength, and beauty to weary women, who have been prematurely aged and invigorated by these distressing ailments, as well as such sympathetic afflictions as anemia, chlorosis, hysteria, and nervousness.

Women from the very first have fully appreciated the purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy which have made Cuticura the standard household remedy of the civilized world.

TORTURING HUMOR
Cured by Cuticura.

"I suffered five years with a terrible itching eczema, my body and face being covered with sores. Never in my life did I experience such awful suffering, and I longed for death, which I felt was near. I had tried doctors and medicines without success, but my mother insisted that I try Cuticura. I felt better after the first application of Cuticura Ointment, and was soon entirely well." Mrs. A. Elson, Bellevue, Mich.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Foster Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Sole Agents. "B" and "C" are a mark for women.

TEDDY, THE DIVER

"What is the sound a-ragin' for?"

said Newport-on-Parade.

"It's soundin' off, it's soundin' off," the Bathing Master said.

"But what's the roarin' all about?"

said Newport-on-Parade.

"It's got a pain on its inside," the Bathing Master said.

"For they're submerging Teddy, you can hear the sirens blow.

There's something big a-doin' moust the fishes down below.

They're unakin' a common where the merry codfish grow.

For they're submerging Teddy in the morning."

"What are the waves a-wavin' for?"

said Stamford-on-Parade.

"They haven't got no handkerchiefs," the Catboat Captain said.

"But even if they haven't none?"

said Stamford-on-Parade.

"They're feelin' pretty swell to-day," the Catboat Captain said.

For they're submerging Teddy, you can hear the Pinner plunger, and Teddy's he's aboard of her, all ready for it to lunge.

To pay a little visit to the starfish and the sponge—

They're submerging Teddy in the morning."

"What makes the whitecaps look so white?" says Greenwich-on-Parade.

"They're afraid of the Rye Clam Digger today," the Rye Clam Digger said.

"What makes 'em froth so at the mouth?" says Greenwich-on-Parade.

"They're jealous of old Teddy's douch," the Rye Clam Digger said.

"For they're submerging Teddy in the deep and briny wet, and the whitecaps they're worried, aye, totally upset.

They're afraid the old Rough Rider hat will be the fashion yet.

For they're submerging Teddy in the morning."

"I wonder why there ain't no fish," the Baltimore answered.

"There used to be a lot of them," the British Angler said.

"They've all swum off to Oyster Bay," the Baltimore answered.

"For they're submerging Teddy in the morning."

And the fish have sailed across the sea to peep behind the scenes.

They love a circus much as you, from whale to young sardines.

And they're submerging Teddy in the morning."

A correspondent of a Philadelphia paper writes that the files of the Journal show that since January 1, 1905, there have been in the city 4,578 cases of typhoid fever with 456 deaths, the mortality being about 10 per cent of the cases. Up to the same date there had been 1,503 cases of yellow fever in New Orleans, with 214 deaths, a mortality of about 13 1/2 per cent. Thus the yellow fever rate is relatively somewhat more fatal than typhoid fever. The epidemic has ceased with the coming of frost. Last year there were 6,857 cases of typhoid fever in Philadelphia and 744 deaths.

WEST KENTUCKY COAL COMPANY

Will Treat With the Men Only—Correspondence Passes Between Supt. Bucher and Kit Barnaby.

Following is from the Morganfield Sun:

The West Kentucky Coal Company, having bought out the U. S., Tradewater, Wheatcroft, Caney Fork and other mines, are of course not successors to any of them, and consequently not belonging to the operators' association and having notified the association that they would not apply for membership it has caused no little comment and is to be credited with being the cause of the following correspondence between Mr. Kit Barnaby, ex-vice-president of district 28 U. M. W. of A., and Mr. Chas. J. Bucher, superintendent and general manager of the West Kentucky Coal Company in Union and Webster counties.

"Mr. C. Barnaby, Sturgis, Ky.—Dear Sir:—Yours of the 31st ult. to hand as follows:

"Mr. C. J. Bucher, Gen'l Supt. West Ky. Coal Company, Sturgis, Ky.—Dear Sir:—Knowing that the West Kentucky Coal Company has withdrawn from the operators' association, therefore you have no contract. Will the company now take the contract as their guide and continue to do business with our organization outside of the operators' association?"

"Hoping to hear from you, I remain yours truly,
 "C. BARNABY."

"In reply would say that your letter is not signed in any official capacity and can only reply to you as an individual, and, in reply, would say that in referring to my company doing business with your organization and taking as a guide the contract of 1905, signed by the operators' association and miners, will say I think this should be the last thing you should mention, as I know in no instance where the operators have ever violated the contract; on the other hand it is violated by the miners in every shape and manner possible. Take for instance, our whistle at the U. S. mine blew this morning for work. Every man who was able to report for duty should have done so at the usual time, but, instead, we had some twelve in all out of about 180. Is that what you call your contract? Do you expect the coal company to perform the contract in every place quite frequently without any apparent cause. However, the experience of the old company with the U. M. W. of A. does not justify the new coal company in going into any contract with the miners, except, say, that to take advantage of its employees is the last thing in their thoughts, but, on the contrary, we shall endeavor to do an honorable business with every employee, and will negotiate, in case of any difference that may arise, with men directly employed in the service of the company.

"Hoping this is to your entire satisfaction, I beg to remain yours truly, West Kentucky Coal Co., by C. J. BUCHER, Gen'l Supt."

LOST—A solid gold cuff button with small diamond in center. Also one gun coat. Finder will receive reward by returning same to Dr. C. B. Johnson.

Mr. W. A. Baikes and Miss Kate Hale were quietly married yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. L. Hale, a farmer of near this place. Rev. J. E. Story performed the ceremony. Mr. Baikes is a brakeman in the employ of the L. & N. Their friends extend congratulations.

Work Progressing on the St. Bernard Annex.

Work on the brick annex to the St. Bernard store is progressing. A large force of men and teams are now at work digging the basement. This addition will consist of a basement and two stories of brick. The heating plant will be moved from the main building and be placed in the basement of the annex. This plant will heat the store, drug store and office.

The first play of the season, "Hooligan's Troubles," was presented at Temple Theatre Friday night by a small company. The show was a comedy and was not up to the standard as compared with others previously given. A very good attendance witnessed the performance.

I'm Growing Old Fast

And you know why, too. It's those gray hairs! Don't you know that Ayer's Hair Vigor restores color to gray hair? Well, it does. And it never falls, either. It stops falling hair also, and keeps the scalp clean and healthy. Do not grow old too fast!

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for many years and I can truly say it has done more for my hair than anything else I have used. It keeps my hair from turning gray, and also keeps my scalp clean and healthy."—E. B. FARRIS, Chicago, Ill., U.S.A.

Soil Bound Trees.

Soil bound trees are not very common, but they are to be met with. When a tree has made a good growth and has spread out its top to cover its feet there is little danger of its becoming soil bound, for the branches of the tree catch most of the sunshine and the grass growth below is meager. The soil bound condition comes when the tree is either very young or so old that the leaves are thin and few. The young tree that is set in grass ground and has never obtained a very good hold of the ground is the one most likely to become soil bound, which means that the roots of the grass have taken possession of the soil and are taking most of the plant food and moisture. Such a tree can be relieved only by digging out the grass and giving its roots the entire use of the ground.—Farmers' Review.

Sheep in the Orchard.

If the trees are protected by some means, sheep are as useful for picking up fallen fruit as pigs are, perhaps more so. They are on hand when an apple falls, while the hogs may be asleep in the shade. The apple ought to be devoured promptly before the worm has had time to crawl out. It is nearly ready to do so before the apple falls, and does not lose much time afterwards. This will suggest the importance of prompt action if the codling moth is to be kept down. Give the animals a chance at the little fruit that falls early, and so dispose of the greater part of the insect crop. By these means the number of the moths can be greatly reduced, but the fight must be kept up every year.—Ohio Farmer.

Peach Tree Borer.

Any signs of the peach tree borer present? Perhaps you have not thought of him lately. Well, if you haven't, now would be a good time to get busy and investigate. He may be at work upon some valuable tree that does not show any visible suffering as yet, but if the destroyer is not removed the signs will develop very prominently ere long.—Midland Farmer.

The dilapidated farm is a discouragement to all the people that live on it. A farmer should keep up a show of prosperity whether he is prosperous or not. This will indirectly aid him in being prosperous.

No matter how skillful we may be in breeding and making nicks, crosses and out-crosses, the main thing with the cow is her feed, and unless she and her offspring are fed enough and well, the granddaughters will be a scrub and dear at most any price.

Poultry Yard Facts.

A poor man can be a capitalist if he is able to own a hen.

Feed a variety of foods. Man would thrive poorly on just one kind of food, and its the same with fowls.

The first meal for the incubator chick should consist of a mixture of grains, ground to about the size of a pinhead.

While there is little nutriment in apples, the chicks relish them, and there is no reason why they should not eat the fruit.

If the chick is backward in breaking through the eggshell, help it along. Sometimes the shell is too hard for the tender little beaks.

The hens should be kept in comfortable quarters. A good building and not be expensive, but it should be so made that it will be warm in winter and well ventilated.

Kill the head lice of the chicks with vasoline. Grease their heads slightly and see that none gets in the eyes. Repeat the dose in ten days.

Above the door of every poultry house should be written this motto: "Idleness is the science and beauty the art of poultry raising."

Don't neglect the roosting coops the young chicks. If you expect your chicks to grow rapidly the roosting coops must be kept sweet and clean.

Do not "stuff" your chicks in your endeavors to make them grow. This will do more harm than good. Clean the nests thoroughly, provide new nesting material and sprinkle well with lime powder.

Scaly legs will become smooth if greased with equal parts of sulphur and lard, well blended before applying, if one can use for this ailment two-thirds of glycerine to one-third carbolic acid.

W. A. Scherer, Interlaken, N. Y., says put equal parts of turpentine and coal oil into a bottle, soak in it sound wheat and put a grain down the throat of chicks that have gapes. He says it is a certain cure.

Lime is useful about the poultry yard. Don't be stingy with it. It is a great promoter of health and a preventer of disease. We have never known gapes where lime was scattered freely about the yard and flocks.

Keep the eggs clean. They look much better. The merchant would rather see them so, even if they do not insure for them. A cloth wet in warm water cleans them easily. If a few drops of vinegar be added to the water, it is said to be better.

Alfalfa and Corn Special.

Hubert Vreeland, Commissioner of Agriculture for the State of Kentucky, has just completed arrangements for a special train, to be known as the "Alfalfa and Corn Special," to tour the agricultural districts of the State, stopping at all principal towns for the purpose of instructing farmers in the cultivation of alfalfa and corn. The train will leave from the L. & N. depot in Louisville, September 28, and will be on the road nine days. It will carry the finest specimens of alfalfa and corn, and lectures will be delivered by the most celebrated specialists in the United States. Prof. Joseph E. Wing, of Mechanicsburg, Ohio, will lecture on alfalfa, and Prof. P. G. Holden, of Ames, Iowa, will be the lecturer on corn. Prof. Holden is credited with having increased the corn crop of his State 10,000,000 bushels through his instruction of the farmers in the selection of seed corn.

M. E. Conference at Leitchfield.

The Louisville annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will meet September 27th at Leitchfield. The regular assignment of the pastors will then take place. Bishop A. Coke Smith, of Norfolk, Va., was appointed to preside over this conference but is detained by illness and Bishop Warren A. Chandler, of Atlanta, Ga., will take his place. This is the first time Bishop Chandler has presided over a conference in the Louisville district and there is general pleasure that he received the assignment this year. In addition to the assignment of the pastors the conference will elect delegates to the general conference, which will be held in Birmingham, Ala., next May. Four preachers and four lay delegates will be chosen.

Sprains.

S. A. Read, Cisco, Tex., writes, March 11, 1901: "My wrist was sprained so badly by a fall that it was useless, and after several remedies, that failed to give relief, I used Chamberlain's Snow Liniment, and recovered. I earnestly recommend it to anyone suffering from sprains." Sold by St. Bernard Drug Store.
